Ennis Wiley, Rolley Anderson, Andy Jones, Raymond Morris and G. E. Powell have volunteered their service to Uncle Sam for his Navy. These five volunteers will leave this morning for Owensboro to get further orders as to where they will go. Ennis Wiley has had previous service in the Navy, and of course, he will make a good man for the place. These boys were all in the draft, but rather than be drafted they wanted to show their patriotism by volunteering. This is the proper spirit for Uncle Sam wants.

BUNDLE DAY.

The results of the first "Bundle Day" were very gratifying to the committees of ladies who are inaugurating the relief work for the French and Belgian children. In spite of the rainy weather bundles began coming in early in the morning and by evening not only was there material enough on hand for many, many little garments but a nice sum of money as well.

He was sent to Sheriff Cliborne. His young fellow is J. Will Thompson. He and his county would not accept him as a fighter but he is able to work and he wants to use part of his earnings to help his government in this war. He subscribed for a bond and will pay $5 per month and he would like May his kind

Pawnee, Ill., April 19.—A hen here owned by Mrs. Gordon White has laid an egg with an exact reproduction of the Kaiser on it. It shows a striking resemblance and brings out with uncanny clearness the flowing mustache, sunken eyes, set lips, straight nose and look of defiance of the German Emperor.
